

The World of Music Up Close and Personal

We're Trying Something New in CMC's 55th Season

We the Board have decided to modernize our communication techniques - in the safest, most efficient and economical way - by using CONSTANT CONTACT as our email provider. Constant Contact has pledged never to sell, lease, or otherwise share any received email list. In addition, it screens all accepted images and document files to assure they are virus-free.

Chamber Music Corvallis has likewise pledged never to share the email list. We are required to assure Constant Contact that emails are sent only to persons who have given their permission for such mailings. If you feel uncomfortable that you have not given your explicit permission to CMC for use of your email address in older or more current mailing lists, or if you have any other concerns, please check the SafeUnsubscribe box at the bottom of this page, very briefly state the reason for unsubscribing, and provide us with your name and a contact phone number or postal address. Thank you.

Our intention is to use the email provider to keep our CMC audience informed on a fairly regular basis. The performance months (October, November, February, March, April, and May) will feature useful and interesting information about the ensemble and the concert program, in essence replacing the old OVERTONES. Other months' content may serve to keep you informed, behind the scenes, about bringing world class music to Corvallis.
